DOODLING WITH BEADS

Saturday, October 2, 2021 | 10 a.m. – 4 p.m.
with Susan Germer

Spark your imagination as you learn a variety of techniques in sewing colorful beads and items onto fabric. Create personal and unique works of art. You will leave with a pin, bookmark, and enough knowledge and inspiration to continue your journey with beads. Bring your own special beads or buttons. No previous experience necessary.

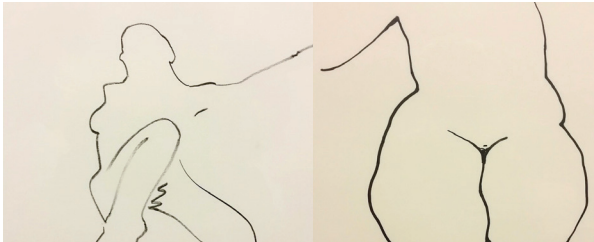

Artist Susan Germer (susang jewelry designs) has been enjoying this art form since 1994. "I love the improvisational aspect of 'painting with beads' and respect the meditative quality of the experience."

SERIAL DRAWING TECHNIQUES

Saturday, January 15, 2022 | 10 a.m. – 4 p.m.
with Gerald Kindsfather

“Sometimes you set out to spend whatever time is necessary to make a drawing perfect, but it results in a piece that is tight and overworked. You can seek perfection, yet achieve spontaneity and freshness by using serial techniques which involve repeated drawings of the same pose to learn positioning and proportion.” Immerse yourself in this process of repetitive serial drawing. Gerald Kindsfather has been teaching drawing on the college and adult education level since the 1980s.

INTERMEDIATE OIL PAINTING

Saturday, April 16, 2022 | 10 a.m. – 4 p.m.
with Robert Tompkins

This is your chance to be immersed in demonstration of essential concepts in painting as well as supervised practice. Learn how to locate images on canvas or panel, recognize abstract shapes, and assess value and color in a painting. You will mix color and recognize value, edges and complementary colors.

Robert Tompkins is an impressionist oil painter, whose works bridge abstraction and realism. His subjects include landscapes, florals, and figurative work.

Suggested supply list will be provided after registration.

WATERCOLOR BATIK

Saturday, May 21, 2022 | 10 a.m. – 4 p.m.
with Carol Welch

Use a variation of the traditional art of batik to create beautiful effects on rice paper using melted wax as a resist with the application of watercolor in layers. When complete, wax is removed with an iron. Bring an image for reference or some will be provided. All levels welcome.

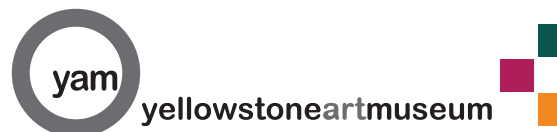

A lifelong Montana resident, Carol Welch paints with watercolor, acrylic and encaustic. Her background includes elementary classroom teaching, owning a gallery and frame shop, and having been Museum Art Educator at the YAM.
